There is a direct control of up to three 230 V sun protection drives via a sun protection control center and a button on site. In addition, you can combine several motor control units into a group and operate them together from one button. The logic behavior of the button can be switched between time and permanent logic. The timing logic causes the MSE to latch after the button has been pressed for approx. 2 seconds. Pressing the button for a short time generates a turning impulse (for slat products). A permanent logic causes the MSE to latch as soon as the button is pressed (for fabric products/roller shutters). The 24V DC control voltage is generated by an integrated power pack, which is required to control the MSE via the button or the sun protection control unit.
